

Good morning MMTA members,

Last week I sent out a Mid-Year review for the MMTA which included a save the date reminder for our Nominating meeting, member social and seminar which will take place at Hingham Beer Works in Hingham, MA.

Due to a potential scheduling conflict with the Newport International Boat Show we have revised the date for this event from Thursday September 14th to

Thursday September 21st.

The seminar will go from 3:30PM to 4:45PM and the nominating meeting and member social will go from 5PM to 8PM. An invitation for this event will follow in the mail over the next couple weeks.

SEMINAR DESCRIPTION:

Working with Government Officials – Seminar – 3:30PM to 4:45PM:

Jamy Buchanan Madeja, Esq., owner of the law practice of Buchanan & Associates, will offer an interactive seminar, on how to work with government officials and staff at all levels; Dos and Don'ts for Success in Working with the Government. Ms. Madeja is Legal and Government Relations Counsel for the Massachusetts Marine Trades Association and has worked with government officials and staff for over twenty-five years in Massachusetts, on matters as diverse as environmental and public safety site inspections, permitting at the local, state, and federal levels, as well as lobbying for local and statewide regulatory and legislative changes. MMTA members are invited to participate and leave with improved personal career skills which also advantage your employer or your own business.
